JULY 27-28
WESTERN OREGON UNIVERSITY
MONMOUTH, OREGON
The Responsible Sexuality Education Core Competency Training

This program is designed to help professionals develop the fundamental skills necessary to provide accurate and age-appropriate sexuality education to diverse populations of youth. The two-day comprehensive program covers: anatomy and physiology, human growth and development, relationships, birth control, sexually transmitted infections and sexual diversity. Additionally, participants will learn effective teaching strategies that are appropriate to the age and experience of the learner. The interactive design of this program gives professionals the opportunity to share ideas and engage in a variety of presentation techniques throughout the course. By the end of the two day training, participants will have gained knowledge, skills and teaching materials that can be incorporated into their daily work with youth. This is a wonderful learning opportunity for those who wish to enhance their effectiveness as a responsible sexuality educator. This is not a curriculum-specific training.

Who should attend?

This course is for teachers, health educators, clergy, youth-workers, social workers, counselors, nurses and any professional who would like to develop solid foundational skills for delivering responsible sexuality education.

As a result of the two-day training, participants will be able to:

- Demonstrate basic knowledge in six content areas (anatomy & physiology, human growth and development, relationships, birth control, sexually transmitted infections and sexual diversity)
- Explore the impact of personal values about sexuality on professional behavior
- Identify teaching strategies and activities that promote learning on topics of human sexuality
- Address challenging questions about sexuality
- Identify resources for gathering accurate, up-to-date information on human sexuality education topics
Course Facilitators

Melissa Meyer, LPN has been working in the health field for 18 years.
